SENECA SCDMV OFFICE TO REOPEN

Blythewood, SC – June 26, 2006 – The South Carolina Department of Motor Vehicles (SCDMV) reopened the newly renovated Seneca field office located at 13009 South Radio Station Road, on Monday, June 26.

Office renovations, which began in October 2005, temporarily moved DMV office operations to a modular unit in the parking lot. The modular unit was closed on Friday, June 23 to facilitate moving equipment and supplies into the newly restored office building.

“The renovations will make a tremendous difference in our ability to serve our customers,” said SCDMV Executive Director Marcia Adams. “The office has nearly twice as much space, which allowed us to add a greeter station, more service counters and an additional rest room. It’s a building that will make both our customers and our employees proud.”

The renovation project also included a new roof, new flooring and a new air conditioning system.

“I think it’s very exciting,” said Barbara Gaines, assistant manager of the Seneca office. “This area is growing so much, and it’s nice that our office is growing with the area to be able to accommodate our customers.”

SCDMV customers also have the option of processing many transactions online at the agency web site, www.scdmvonline.com.
